

3rd Eye Lab is software service providers where a group of talented IT professionals are united to develop quality oriented applications with keeping our uniqueness in the industry. Our intension is to develop products based on our own innovative ideas which will have potential to provide end user with new experience than existing applications and also will increase user satisfaction of that kind of application. We always like to adopt new technologies and try to get advantages of them., that's why we like to take challenges very frequently.

Usually we work on following areas :

- Mobile application development.
- Web application development
- Stand-alone application development (both client & server side).
- Game development

We have started with working in different freelance websites. Now we are looking forward to handle things on our own.

Check our Portfolio of completed projects and see the diversity of tools and technologies we have worked with.

Elance

We believe that every software has its different aspect to meet its own purpose. So, we think every project distinctly from others and develop to make it highly scalable for meeting all possible cases. We maintain software engineering approach so that our project can be enhanced in future for extending features.

We always keep in mind that it's time that matters for both of us and our clients. So, we always try meet deadline and we have been successful to do so as far. Welcome to 3rd Eye Lab for your next software, we bate your experience will be different .
